

Story of a Dry Stone Wall

I'm still standing....

Lake District dry stone wall

...After all this time

Built by an 18th century farmer...

..... still vital to the 21st century farmer

Stood the test of time for over 300 years with occasional maintenance from generations of farmers

Strength

Shelter

Durability

Beauty

Longevity

Low maintenance

No other boundary can compete with a dry stone wall